AUSTRALIAN
PHYSIOTHERAPY
ASSOCIATION

At a glance

The APA website is the place physiotherapists and APA members turn to join or renew their membership, find the latest APA professional development opportunities, job prospects, changes to healthcare policy, physiotherapy-related media activity and a full directory of APA physiotherapists.

The APA website is mobile responsive and provides an easy-to-navigate experience to all users and seeks to further engage our members and other APA stakeholders on a digital platform.

Our website ranked number one on Google for 'physio' and 'physiotherapy', bringing over 243K visits per month.

Our audience and your business

The APA website (www.australian.physio) features navigation paths and content aimed at unique audiences with its primary market being APA members, physiotherapists and other health professionals. Its secondary market includes government bodies, media and partners.

The APA consumer website www.choose.physio is a dedicated channel that promotes awareness of physiotherapy and the conditions physios can treat.

These unique markets open up opportunities for advertisers to choose their intended audience and deliver targeted advertising.

The pages that follow provide an overview of the different banner positions and a brief description of the page.

Choose where to advertise

1. www.australian.physio

Primary audience: APA members, non-APA physiotherapists and other health professionals.

Secondary audience: government bodies, media and APA partners.

This website features content related to APA membership, professional development, the latest physiotherapy news, research and APA activities in areas covering everything from consumer activities to advocacy priorities. In addition, content regarding partnership with the APA and our latest submissions to government bodies will also be featured.

APA members have a dedicated 'member dashboard' where they can access and update their personal records at any time. An ad on this page provides the opportunity to advertise direct to our membership.

Users will also have access to unique banners within member only areas. Banners have been placed on relevant pages that attract a good level of visitation.
