

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Committee

EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

The Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Committee (ATSIHC) is a management expert advisory committee of the Australian Physiotherapy Association. The main areas of focus for the Committee include raising awareness of issues affecting the health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and growing and supporting the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander physiotherapy workforce.

The Committee is calling for expressions of interest for one physiotherapist to take up a three year term on the ATSIHC. The term of office will run until 31 December 2025 and successful nominees will have the option of re-nominating to serve on the ATSIHC for a total of two consecutive terms of three years. The ATSIHC encourages physiotherapists from metropolitan and rural or remote areas to apply, and physiotherapists from all states and territories who have a passion for improving health outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples will be considered.

To ensure appropriate representation on the Committee, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander physiotherapists are encouraged to apply.

The committee meets via teleconference on at least three occasions throughout the year (as determined by the group) and also meets face-to-face for one day. During their term, ATSIHC members will contribute some time, expertise and energy, and will help guide the organisation in its reconciliation.

Eligibility criteria

- a financial member of the APA
- demonstrated interest in matters relating to the health of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples
- available for meetings or teleconference meetings held approximately four times per year.
